

The Kids Are Alright

If you're inviting children to your reception, keep them entertained so they, and the adults around them, can truly enjoy the party. Here are some ideas, tips and resources:

SUPERVISION Start with the basics—the health and safety of your littlest guests should be priority one. The team at KiddieCorp comes prepared to watch over a wide range of ages, and they'll do everything from fetching a baby bottle from the parent's hotel room, to making plates of food for the children.
